

General Thoracic Surgeon (non-cardiac) Needed Little Rock, AR

The Surgical Clinic of Central Arkansas is seeking a general thoracic surgeon to join their well-established, large, multi-specialty surgical practice. The recruitment need is to plan for the approaching retirement of the existing thoracic surgeon in the group.

The current surgeon performs roughly 400 surgeries per year. The practice is a full spectrum thoracic practice with an especially large number of esophageal cases. The practice does not include cardiac or vascular work. The practice utilizes VATS technology.

The other surgeons in the practice specialize in general, laparoscopic, bariatric and transplant surgery. There is enough thoracic business to support a surgeon doing 100% thoracic work but general surgery cases can be performed as desired. The thoracic surgeon shares in the general surgery call within the group which occurs roughly 1 night per week and every 4th weekend.

The position is employed with a one year income guarantee. There is possibility for bonus based on production. Partnership is available within 3-4 years and the financial entry is easily manageable.

This is an excellent opportunity to join and eventually take over arguably the largest thoracic surgery practice in the state of Arkansas.

In addition to the excellent surgical opportunity that is available, there is much that the community of Little Rock has to offer. It is located in Central Arkansas with access to many outdoor activities as well as cultural experiences. It is easy to understand why Arkansas is called the Natural State from the many rivers, lakes, parks, hiking trails and camping sites readily available and in close proximity. Little Rock boasts the Little Rock Zoo, Arkansas Arts Center, Arkansas Symphony, The Repertory Theater and The William J. Clinton Presidential Library, to name a few.
