

The Sanger Heart and Vascular Institute (SHVI), in conjunction with the Levine Cancer Institute (LCI), is seeking applications for a full-time thoracic surgeon to join our Division of Thoracic Surgery at Atrium Health in Charlotte. The Division of Thoracic Surgery provides comprehensive thoracic surgery care to patients at three locations in the Charlotte metropolitan area. The division is home to one of the largest thoracic robotic surgery programs in the region.

About the Opportunity:

- Surgeon must be BC/BE in thoracic surgery and have completed an ACGME approved Cardiothoracic Surgery Residency or equivalent
- Should either have a current North Carolina Medical License or be eligible for application
- Have experience and advanced skills in all aspects of general thoracic surgery, including thoracic oncology, minimally invasive VATS and thoracic robotic surgery as well as benign and malignant diseases of the esophagus
- Active participation in training of students, residents and cardiothoracic fellows
- Faculty positions through Wake Forest School of Medicine Charlotte Campus commensurate with experience
- Be able to support growth of thoracic surgical volumes by providing system wide access to the highest quality, efficient and affordable care to patients across the regional network
- Have the ability to possess excellent communication skills and promote a collegial approach to patient care

About the Practice:

- Currently there are 3 Thoracic Surgeons at three facilities within Atrium Health and around the clock coverage by APPs to support patient care on the units and in the OR
- Large tertiary referral center
- Great collegiality within the practice and support among other specialists and administration
